

Sidney Myer Creative Fellowships

Provides unrestricted, tax-free grants over two years to individual Australian artists, creatives and cultural leaders.

In 2024, The Ian Potter Cultural Trust will join the Sidney Myer Fund in appointing Creative Fellows. The Trust will award two Ian Potter Creative Fellowships annually, with the same value, criteria and structure as the Sidney Myer Creative Fellowships.

The two criteria used to select Fellows are: outstanding talent and exceptional courage. Specifically, this talent and courage relates to the professional practice of the Fellows and not to cases of personal hardship.

Nominations are welcome for artists, creators and cultural leaders across the entire spectrum of the visual, performing, interdisciplinary, new media and literary arts, as well as the humanities. Applicants to the program may not self-nominate and must include two referees who are not the nominator.

The Fellowships are intended for individuals in their 'early mid-career' – to be eligible, nominees must be at least seven years into their creative practice. They are also intended for those who will primarily be resident in Australia for the two years of their Fellowship.

In the 2024 round, there will be eight Sidney Myer Creative Fellowships and two Ian Potter Creative Fellowships on offer. With a total annual budget of $2 million, all ten Fellowships will be selected from the same pool of nominations, to ensure nominators only need to make one submission.
