

Transurban Community Grants

Funds projects that bring road safety, financial inclusion, the environment or STEM benefits to the communities in Greater Melbourne, Sydney or Brisbane near Transurban's roads.

Grants are open to a wide range of organisations and initiatives and Transurban encourages inclusion, diversity of thought and innovation.

New grant recipients

- First Nations: As part of their commitment to reconciliation, at least one grant in each eligible state will be awarded to a First Nations organisation or initiative
- People's choice: All of the community also has the chance to vote for grant recipients, with a People's Choice grant awarded to one organisation or initiative in each eligible state.

Successful grant recipients will be eligible for Transurban's People's Choice Award. The public will be invited to vote for their favourite charity or project in each State. The organisation with the most votes will receive an additional $10,000 in funding, while the runner-up will be awarded an extra $5,000.

Applicant organisations must be registered with the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission (ACNC) and delivering the proposed project within a designated local government area:
