

Jobs and Skills WA Employer Incentive

Provides businesses with incentive payments when they employ an apprentice or new entrant trainee.

Jobs and Skills WA Employer Incentive provides businesses with financial assistance to help them with the costs of employing a new entrant trainee or apprentice.

The incentive amount is based on the nominal term of the apprenticeship or traineeship.

Employers may be able to receive an additional loading payment if the apprenticeship / traineeship is undertaken in a priority occupation.

Employers can claim incentive payments at the following milestones:

Apprenticeships

- At the commencement of the apprenticeship
- At the mid-point of the nominal duration of the apprenticeship
- On completion of the apprenticeship.

Traineeships

- At the commencement of the traineeship
- On completion of the traineeship.

To be eligible, you must:

- Have an Australian business number (ABN)
- Be running a business which is currently below the payroll tax threshold (currently at $950,000 per annum)
- Employ a new entrant trainee or an apprentice.

Employers must have lodged the training contract for registration on or after 1 July 2019.
